Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

St. Helena Elementary School is proud of our students and community. We hope that this year new programs that have been implemented will stabilize for a period of time and serve to increase student achievement, motivation, and learning. Several changes were implemented as we became known as an Accelerated School. The school year was increased by twenty days, and the instructional day was increased by twenty-five minutes. Science Technology Engineering Math (STEM) units were written in collaboration with two other STEM schools in the district to offer students interdisciplinary units in social studies and science through inquiry, hands-on projects, and performance tasks. The Arts Integrated Program, a grant from the United States Department of Education, continued along with an afterschool program focusing on the arts provided by United Way, called St. Helena Island Project (SHIP). These two programs promoted learning basic skills through the arts. Six reading interventionists, three from Reading First and three from the district, worked collaboratively to assure that all children who were not on grade level worked diligently and purposefully to close the gaps in reading reaching the school goal of having all children on grade level.

Involved with these academic additions, Positive Behavior Intervention System (PBIS) was implemented for its second year and was guided by Habits of Mind, which are sixteen habits that promote learning and thinking. Teachers worked hand-in-hand with students, the parents, and community to bring into the school habits that will promote lifelong learning. A goal of moving children one and a half years of growth in math and reading was set and monitored. Results coming in at the end of the year look promising, with 69% of our fifth graders meeting their one and a half year goal in reading as they move to middle school. There is still much work to be done, and with the help of coaches in science, math, literacy, and technology we hope to continue to make the necessary growth for all of our students to be successful.

Activities provided by the SIC, PTO, and staff included a Back to School Picnic, Learning Nights with a focus on programs and subjects, study skills, student showcases, kinder clubs, academic competitions, and schoolwide musical programs. Volunteers from the community logged in many hours to assist with Alphabet Junction in kindergarten and students of all ages in math, reading, and the Arts. Teachers continued with professional development through the year with interactive boards, best practice strategies, reading study groups, data, Every Day Math, and technology usage. Four faculty members were awarded the Master Naturalist certification. Two completed master's programs and two more began their master's program during the year. The faculty, SIC, PTO, and community want to see our school become a school of excellence in all areas. It will take time, but we will continue to strive for success for all, learning daily from each other.

Tameka Watson, SIC Chairperson
